

ONEDAY INVITED LECTURE PROGRAMME
The Department of English, Ambedkar College organised a One-day Invited Lecture
Programme on “Sarojini Naidu: The Nightingale of India” for the under-graduate students on 5th April 2019 at the Seminar Hall of the College .

The Programme began with a welcome address by Mrs J.Darlong, Head of English Dept. who welcomed and introduced the resource person for the programme Mrs Jasmine Rupini, Asst.Prof of College of Teacher’s Education, Kumarghat. The lecture programme was organised specifically for the students with a view to make the students gain in-depth knowledge of the great poet and revolutionist Sarojini Naidu. The lecture provided an insight to the life and works of Mrs Naidu and her various contributions to Indian English Literature. The lecture was helpful in inculcating a positive attitude towards women’s role embodied by Mrs Naidu; in shaping the early Indian English Literature. The programme was an informative, interactive and extremely beneficial to all the students who attended especially the 1st semester students who had a poem of Mrs Naidu in their syllabus. The lecture programme ended with a vote of thanks to the Resource person Mrs Rupini for taking the time out to educate and widen the knowledge of the students on the life and works of Sarojini Naidu : The Nightingale of India.
